Supervisors Ask State O. K. For Opening Of Echo Summit

Your Income Tax

Federal income tax payments become delinquent on March 15th. For the convenience of our readers we will present under this heading a series of authenticated articles which may help answer some of the questions likely to arise. W. D. Malloy, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, opened offices February 1 at Room 5, in the basement of the postoffice.

Checking Delinquents

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has at its command many sources for checking up delinquent taxpayers. One of these is the "information at source" provision of the Internal Revenue Code, under which persons, "in whatever capacity acting," are required to report on Form 1099, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, D. C., payments of fixed or determinable income to another in the calendar year of 1940 of $800 or more. If the recipient is married, and is a citizen or resident of the United States, reports need not be made of salary or other compensation for personal services unless the payments aggregate $2,000 or more. If the marital status of the payee is unknown to the payer, the payee is considered a single person for the purpose of filing an information return of salary or other compensation for personal services.

Fixed or determinable income includes wages, salaries, royalties, premiums, rent, interest, etc. A separate return of information for each employee is required of employers. The requirements are not limited to periodical payments, but a single payment must be reported. Domestic and resident foreign corporations are required to make a separate report, Form 1099, of dividends or distributions for each individual, citizen, or resident of the United States, resident fiduciary, or a resident partnership any member of which is a citizen or resident, who was paid $100 or more during the calendar year 1940.

All persons or organizations acting at any time during the year 1940 as broker or other agents in stocks, bonds, or commodity transactions (including banks which handle clearing orders for depositors or custodian accounts) are required to file annual returns of information on Form 1100 with respect to all customers, depositors, or accounts for whom or which the total amount of the sales of securities or commodities, or the total market value of the securities exchanged, is $25,000 or more during the calendar year 1940 and each subsequent calendar year, with certain exceptions. A separate Form 1100 must be prepared for each customer, depositor, or account for whom or which business was transacted during the year, and must show the name and address and other information provided for in the form.

Information returns are carefully checked with individual returns of taxpayers. Thousands of delinquent returns and additional revenue amounting to millions of dollars have been secured as the result of the examination of information returns.

(This concludes a series of authenticated articles under thirty-one separate headings, supplied by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, on the subject of the federal income tax and published by this newspaper as a public service. Ed. Note.)

RESIDENTS ALONG ROAD FROM STOCKTON TO WENDOVER FORMING ASSOCIATION

Resolution By County Board Requests Permission Of State Department Of Public Works To Remove Snow And Restore Travel Over Route Immediately

The Board of Supervisors of El Dorado County went on record Tuesday afternoon by resolution as requesting the permission of the state Department of Public Works to open U. S. Route 50 across the Echo Summit to travel immediately.

The action of the board implied that since the state is not acting to open the road, the county will undertake the work if the state will grant permission.

Action of the board followed a visit of a delegation representing prominent Lake Valley resort operators, who had come to Placerville this week in the course of forming an Open Highway 50 Association, which all ready has a membership as far west as Stockton and as far east as Wendover, on the eastern border of Nevada.

"We are happy to say," the Lake Valley delegation reported, "that we have contacted business people along the road from Folsom to Placerville and have met with unanimous support for our organization."

"We have not contacted all of the business people and some of them may be provoked at us for not visiting them, but all whom we have contacted have heartily endorsed our activity."

At the same time it was revealed committees have met with similar

Smith Flat Lady Answers Call

Mrs. Etta Maude White Succumbs Tuesday Night; Lifelong County Resident

Mrs. Etta Maude Sackett White, 71, native of California and a lifelong resident of the county, passed away Tuesday evening at her home at Smith Flat.

The body is in the care of the Dillinger mortuary and the arrangements for the funeral, services are pending.

Mrs. White had enjoyed reasonably good health for her advanced years until quite recently, friends report.

She is survived by three sons, Orrin Sackett and Warren Sackett, of Vancouver, Washington; and John White, of Smith Flat; two sisters, Mrs. Kate Phelps, of Camino; and Mrs. Florence Dent, of Elk Grove, and by her husband, Richard White, of Smith Flat.

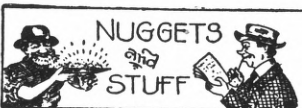

ELEVEN SELECTEES REPORT ON WEDNESDAY FOR INDUCTION

Wednesday was the day for eleven selectees from the county to report at Sacramento for induction for one year of military service and attaches of the county Selective Service board stated that eight of the men left Placerville Wednesday morning by bus.

The other three, it was understood, were going to Sacramento by private conveyance and would report there.

The eleven are Blair Harris, Albert M. Whitaker, Thurman Upton, John Garrett, Edward Claire, Paul Mullinix, Norman Elliott, Charles Saldano, Ferdinand Fritz, Bruce McCann and John D. Cuthbert.

This was only a part of the county quota of thirty-one which was to have been presented on Wednesday and as a result of failure to obtain the quota the county will supply twenty additional men on March 12th.

Gangway, King Winter, we're coming through the Echo summit! The Board of Supervisors has gone on record by resolution saying that the county will open the road if the state will give permission.

This is an official reflection of the importance which the community attaches to maintaining U. S. Route 50 as an all-year highway.

Thus does the snowball of public sentiment, which has been rolling for several months past, gain momentum and sweep forward to what, it would seem, may be successful in the movement to establish year around travel over the route.

It is to be hoped that if the state finds that it is still able to remove the snow and open the route to travel, it will welcome the offer of the Board of Supervisors to get the job done; because the road should be open to travel.

Lake Valley residents report they are meeting with success in all communities along U. S. Route 50 from Stockton through Lodi, Folsom, Shingle, Placerville, Carson City, Austin, Eureka, Ely and Wendover, in support of travel over Highway 50 and a long-time program of support for travel over U. S. Route 50 is being developed.

Such enthusiasm in a well-grounded civic project is to be commended and we are glad to see an organization such as the Open Highway 50 Association, representing so many people with so great a diversity of interests, take the lead in urging upon our public officials the need for maintaining all-year travel over the route.

You may remember—a few weeks ago there was some publicity about the desirability of a mess fund for Company D of the National Guard.

One veteran of two wars has written in to say that when the boys go to camp they'll eat at a mess with thousands of others in the same camp, and what's the use of a mess fund?

Well—here's the picture as we get it—Company D is going to be inducted into the Army on March 3. They will be stationed in Placerville. (Continued on Page Three)

RED CROSS TO NAME HEADS FEB. 27TH

Annual Report Of Chairman Will Show Roll Call Collected $1,159.69

The annual meeting and election of officers of El Dorado County Chapter of the Red Cross will be 27th, at 8:00 o'clock at the court-house, at 8 o'clock at the court-house.

Call for the meeting was issued Wednesday by T. S. Marlor, chairman of the chapter, who revealed at the same time that Mrs. Edith Rantz, for nine years chairman of the production department of the chapter, has expressed a desire to be relieved of that responsibility.

"We owe Mrs. Rantz a hearty vote of thanks," the chapter chairman said. "She has served in that capacity for nine years and while we regret her decision, it is only fair that her request to be relieved be granted."

"Her operating expense for the last year amounted to approximately $240, all spent for materials from which to fashion the various garments requested by headquarters. Mrs. Rantz wishes to continue as a helper but asks to be relieved from the chairmanship of the production department as its demands are growing to the point where they have become too burdensome for her." Club Has Usual Program Day

"Washington's Birthday" Observance Featured In Shakespeare Meeting

The approaching Washington's birthday anniversary was the theme for the regular February program day meeting of the Shakespeare Club, held on Tuesday at the clubhouse.

Miss Reba Sinclair gave a reading of the play, "Washington Lived Here," which was most entertaining, and Mrs. Robert Sinclair read "Washington's Maxims."

Mrs. John Nelson, the club president, explained the new federation project of sewing for the children of nations at war and a committee is to undertake this work as soon as details of the plan are completed. The work will be carried out in cooperation with the Red Cross and arrangements are being made to afford those who may not be able to help actively in the project, to assist by contributing funds for the purchase of materials.

Rance McFarland contributed two solos, "He's My Uncle" and "I Am An American" to the entertainment program.

Guests at the meeting included Miss Charlotte Wilson, manager of The Red Inn, at Provincetown, Mass., which has been operating continuously since 1805; Miss Mary Louise Sutliff, of New York City; Mrs. George Reese, Mrs. C. W. Shepherd and Mrs. A. Price, Mrs. W. D. Malloy, Mrs. W. B. Parker and Mrs. F. C. Evans.

Mrs. Hannah Wilson was greeted as a new member.

Mrs. Nelson thanked the committee in charge of the Pioneer Day meeting in January for their excellent work and called attention to the Garden Section meeting on Tuesday of the coming week, at the clubhouse, with Mrs. Percy McNie as chairman.

The committee on the Spring Style Show and Tea reported plans to meet Wednesday to plan more definitely on the event, which is to be held March 7th at the clubhouse at 2:30 o'clock.

NAZIS BUILD SUPER-GLIDERS EACH CARRYING 50 MEN

Australians Move Into Singapore To Take Over Defense; Bulgaria Continues To Call Troops; Fascists Flee In Ethiopia

WASHINGTON, (UP)—A diplomatic source said today that a factory in Prague is working on a German army order for 1,000 super-gliders capable of carrying 50 soldiers each. Whether these might be intended for use in the predicted invasion of Britain was debated pro and con in military circles.

The super-gliders, some said, may supplement the more hazardous job of dropping parachute troops from planes. Some sources believed Germany could land possibly two full divisions of air troops—about 30,000 men—if the German airforce could devise a way to get the gliders into the air in mass and were lucky enough to avoid ground defenses.

British Aid Greeks
LONDON, (UP)—British sources indicated today that Great Britain will not give up her Greek ally and the Balkan war front without a fight despite belief in Balkan quarters that Germany has moved into a strategic position to impose peace between Greece and Italy.

Pressure Denied
ATHENS, (UP)—Well informed sources said today that no German pressure had been put on Greece to make peace with Italy and cited a communique of the official news agency, issued last Saturday, that Greece would fight to the end.

Bulgaria Mobilizing

An Australian expeditionary corps, backed by fighter and bomber plane squadrons, today assumed protection of Great Britain's far eastern danger point, the great naval base of Singapore.

Their arrival made plain that Britain views the far eastern threat seriously.

The Japanese were not pleased by the British action. An army spokesman at Shanghai said that arrival of the Australians would not "contribute to peace."

Bangkok indicated that Japan steadily is increasing her naval concentrations in the waters north of Singapore. Permission was asked there for destroyers of the Japanese "patrol" force to provision and refuel.

From Khartoum, British headquarters in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, United Press staff correspondent Jan Kindrich reported that the Ethiopian troops, officered by the British, are pursuing 9,000 Italians in the region south of Lake Tana after a four-day battle in which the Ethiopians captured the important outpost of Danghela.

BRITISH AID OPPOSITION CONTINUES

"Mr. Jones Let The Cat Out Of The Bag," Sen. Johnson Notes; Amendment Sought

By WILLIAM H. LAWRENCE
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Senate opponents of the British-aid bill today charged that Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones had revealed the administration's "true plan" by telling a house committee that the United States is "in the war."

"Mr. Jones let the cat out of the bag," said Sen. Hiram W. Johnson, R., Calif., an opposition leader. "He emphasized that fact by his attempt to strike his remark from the record."

Johnson and other opponents of the bill said they would use Jones' remark to get support for an amendment that would specifically prohibit the use of American troops outside the western hemisphere. They claimed Jones had emphasized the need for such a restriction.

President Roosevelt contended that Jones' statement meant nothing; that it was merely a lot of words and a lot of language. Earlier, Jones, testifying before the house banking and currency committee about the need for $100,000,000 of defense housing, said: "We're in the war, at least we're nearly in the war; we're preparing (Continued on Page 3)

Legion, Ladies Dinner Guests

Auxiliary Announces "Birthday Dinner" and Program On March 8th

Here's good news for members of the American Legion, their wives and sweethearts.

The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary are laying plans for a Legion Birthday Dinner and Program, for the evening of March 8, at the Veterans' Memorial Hall.

The event is the 22nd birthday of the national American Legion organization, which now has a membership of over 1,000,000 ex-service men and women of the World War. Dinners and special programs commemorating the anniversary will be staged throughout the nation and the world.

Mrs. Jessie Watts, president of the Auxiliary pointed out that the observance for this county will start off with a chicken pie dinner at 6:30, to which all members of the American Legion and their ladies are to be guests. A suitable after-dinner program is being planned, Mrs. Watts said, and will be announced later.

The month of March is the Legion Auxiliary's "Community Service Month," and the anniversary dinner is one of the major events of the month. Mrs. Ollie Irwin is chairman of the committee on community service this year.

PASSPORT TO PERIL

In Miami, Jim Talbot, adventurer, meets James Long, who is his exact double. Long is about to sail for Costanagua, Central American republic, in response to a mysterious letter from Zachary Webb, old-time soldier of fortune. When unknown plotters slay Long, Jim assumes his identity and sails in his place, determined to thwart his enemies. Aboardship, Jim becomes convinced that a passenger named Strade, and the first mate, Makrin, are connected with the plot against Long. He is lured into a trap by a scented note from Strade's beautiful secretary, Vara, and barely escapes death. He is imprisoned in his cabin but, on the night before the ship is due at Coghla, Costanagua, Vara frees him, leads him to the hold, and tells him to hide in a crate of machinery that is to be unloaded at Coghla. She insists the note from her was forced. Half convinced, he kisses her.

CHAPTER X

VARA clung to him, responding to his kiss then broke away with a little gasp.

"I—I must go!" she whispered quickly. "And you must hide! Some one may come—may find us here!"

Jim caught her hand suddenly afraid for her. "What if they find out that it was you who freed me? I mustn't let you take this risk for me! Better to go back to my cabin and let them do what they will!"

"No! No! They will not find out it was I! I feel so now and throw the key overboard. When they find your cabin empty in the morning it will be the great mystery!"

He wavered a moment then decided that she was probably able to take care of herself—that she would be clever enough to avoid suspicion.

"But when will I see you again?" he asked anxiously. "Where will you be in Coghla?"

"Oh but you must not stay in Coghla! What good is it for me to save you now if you will be so foolishly? You must get away instantly—go back to America! And you must tell no one your name—no one! Do you understand? Promise me!"

He shook his head. "No," he said firmly. "I can't promise you anything like that. I've come to Costanagua with a purpose—and nobody's going to scare me away!"

She pleaded with him but in vain. Finally, careful of being discovered, she left him disappearing up the ladder.

JIM had little difficulty concealing himself in the crated road-grading machine. The heavy slats of the crate were widely enough spaced to allow a man to squeeze between them and once inside the crate it was easy enough to climb into the machine itself.

The noise, however, into which he crowded himself was narrow and uncomfortable, and his muscles soon became cramped. To add to his discomfort the noise of the engine and the throbbing vibration of the ship's propeller were greatly magnified here in the hold.

The continuous pounding did not on his nerves and killed any chance of willing away the hours in sleep.

Most of the time was spent in thinking of Vara. Her face, enigmatic and alluring, was vividly before him there in the darkness. The taste of her lips still lingered on his intoxicating him.

She had responded so fervently to his kiss—had seemed to mean it as much as he. Could a girl's kiss mean so much—and yet mean nothing?

Of course it meant nothing! She had unquestionably kissed many a man in the same way. That fellow Makrin, for instance. Jim gritted his teeth, writhing at the thought of Makrin kissing her.

And yet—and yet, she had defied and outwitted Makrin to come to his aid. That must mean something...

His thoughts went on and on, in circles.

HE HAD no idea what hour of the day it was but judged it was early afternoon, when the engines and propeller at last ceased their monotonous dinning. His pulse leaped as heavy silence fell upon the hold.

They were in Coghla Harbor! Soon, Vara's plan for his escape would be out to the test. Would he be able to remain undiscovered until this crate, with him inside was safe ashore?

He didn't have long to wait. Soon after the boat came to rest, daylight flooded the hold. Jim could hear the chatter of natives on deck the shouts of the crew the rumble of steam winches and the creak of tackle.

Men descended the ladder moved about in the hold selecting and marking the crates billed to be unloaded at Coghla.

Crouched in his hiding place Jim waited, grim-faced for his turn to be hoisted on deck.

The unloading went off without a hitch. Jim's crate was one of the largest and heaviest of the lot. When its turn at last came two hooks were affixed, one at each end and two winches hoisted simultaneously.

A few minutes later the crate hung dangling above the deck. Jim heard Makrin's voice: "This is the last piece. Swing it over the side and lower away easy!"

Jim grinned. What a shock the first mate would get if he knew what was inside the crate!

Then, the booms were swung out and the crate was lowered to the deck of a lighter.

Soon afterward the lighter was moving away from the anchored Sea Gull toward the tropical shoreline of Costanagua.

So far so good!

THE same process was repeated after the loaded lighter had been nudged up alongside a dock and moored. Again hooks were lowered from the booms affixed to the crates lifting and swinging them onto rollers on the dock.

They were then pushed into a long warehouse where they were stowed away.

Jim however still had a long wait ahead of him. He dared not venture from the crate until the work crew was gone. Hence through the rest of the afternoon he remained in his cramped quarters, listening to the sounds of men at work around him.

Night was falling when the last piece of cargo had been stored away, and he heard the men preparing to leave. Then came the sound of heavy wooden doors being slid shut—and dark silence descended on the interior of the warehouse.

Jim drew a deep breath. Now! At last!

So long had he been curled up in one position that his knees trembled as he climbed down out of the road-grader and squeezed out through the slats of the crate. He stood there flexing his muscles, getting the kinks out of them. Lord but he was stiff!

He peered about him. Accustomed by now to darkness, he was able to make out the shapes of things and to see the big doors there ahead of him.

Slowly, stiffly he moved toward them. He supposed they would be locked, but he was confident he would be able to find some way of getting out of here.

He had just reached the doors and was about to try them when he was startled by the sudden jangle of a chain on his crate. Outside. Some one was coming in!

He jumped back quickly—hid himself behind a box in a corner. He heard the doors slide open, peeped from his hiding place, and saw the shadowy figures of two men entering.

One of them spoke. Strade's voice! Then, the other, Makrin!

HI CHATTER

BY Bill Dillinger
PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN

Sutter Creek's Thundering Herd got corralled by the Cougars, who used everybody but the waterboy in the lineups, and still won going away. This was the sixth straight victory for the local B and C teams, who are now undisputed champs of the northern half of the Mother Lode. The A team, off to a shaky start at the first of the season, were too far behind to catch up in the title race, and thus Ione is the A champion, despite a sound thumping at the hands of the Cougars two weeks ago.

Sonora brings her A and B squads to Placerville on Friday evening, of next week, to do battle for the district championship among high schools of B. classification (enrollment of 500 or more). E. C. H. S. and Sonora are the only class B schools in the Mother Lode. The B teams of the two schools will also be playing for the championship of the Mother Lode League, for Sonora is the southern half winner.

The Cougar C's are laid off until March, when they will participate in some special playoffs.

There won't be a dull moment at the Sonora game, for when the boys aren't playing basketball, the drill team will be marching or the majorettes will be strutting. And, of course, the band will add to the general excitement. Now with this superlative mixture of masculine and feminine finery, we'll have to request the audience to watch with just one eye at a time, so as not to put too great a strain on their optic nerves!

Make Up Your Minds

Now comes the sad case of Edith Thompson, a victim of too much school spirit—here, and other peoples—she had undertaken the herculean job of making the pom-poms for the coming Sonora fiasco, which was planned for the night of the twenty-first. Now the game has been postponed until next Friday, the 28th, and the Basketball dance, which she also has charge of, has been tentatively called for this Friday. Now she'll be busier than a Chiropractor at a centipede farm trying to coordinate all these activities.

"Slaves" (note quotes) Freed
Lincoln does an encore! Nearly ninety years after his famous Emancipation Proclamation, "Honest Abe" freed the slaves of El Dorado High. On Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, school was dismissed in observance of Lincoln's Birthday.

Junior Play

"The Cat and the Canary" has been chosen for the Junior Play. The cast, headed by Ray Lumley and Eddis Howe, was named on Tuesday, and the junior dramatics class plans to go into production at once. The plot calls for all manner of secret passages, trap doors, and shadowy forms; for the play is the sort of mystery-comedy that will keep the audience on the edge of their seats throughout the performance.

Honor List

The semester list of mental marvels shows an increase in new members, and a decrease in the old reliables.

The following are regular members of the honor society: Delores Rizo, Eleanor Swift, Caroline Wallace, Bob Weidman, and Bill Dillinger. Associate members are Lewis Hughes, Beatrice Martin, Evelyn Smith, Edward Stafford, Ralph Thomas, and Doris Onetti. Associates only have to have 8 or 9 points (A 3 points, B 1 point) to remain on the society after once having attained the honor, while the status of regular membership denotes the possession of ten or more points. New members (with ten or more points) are: Palmira Brunelli, Patricia Conley, Bill Harden, Floris Gregory, Jerry Potts, Pauline Prior, Edith Shafer and Sibyl Ann Wallace.

Graduation will take a heavy toll from this group, for seven of the eleven veterans are seniors. Caroline Wallace is doing her part, however, for she is leaving her sister, Sibyl Ann, to carry on the good work.

To Attend Play

About twenty-five students are going to Stockton on Saturday to get a preview of that traditional emotion of spring, lamour. The occasion is a performance of "Romeo and Juliet" by the Pacific Little Theater. Two members of the faculty, Mr. Flynn and Mr. Dods also plan to attend.

Puppet Show

At 8:00 Friday evening, March 7, the curtain goes up on the Girls League Talent Parade. The girls have assembled the school's best singers, dancers and musicians to perform for their scholarship benefit, and as a special attraction, the senior dramatics class will present a puppet show—puppets courtesy of the are department. Present troupe of puppets consists of one mule, one rooster, one Indian, one colored mammy, one little girl and one little boy. Now what kind of a story could this menage fit into?

Leads Water Fight

The state versus nation controversy over water rights in the west is led by Gov. Ralph L. Carr of Colorado. Flanked by many western governors, he opposes the proposed Arkansas Valley Authority, patterned after the Tennessee Valley Authority, and embracing territory seven times larger—the basins of the Arkansas, White, St. Francis and Red rivers.

one person. Unfortunately, we agree with her."

The annual report of the chairman shows that the chapter has spent $240 for production supplies, $300 in first aid, $280 in life saving and swimming classes, $29 in home service and civilian relief, $70 in local fire disaster relief, $70 in general office expense and $51 for miscellaneous expense, which totals $1,040.

In the annual Roll Call, conducted during November by the chairman of the chapter, county-wide memberships contributed $1,159.69 to the support of the Red Cross work of which $51.99 went to the general fund and $1,107.70 to the 1941 chapter fund. There will be due the national organization $453.72 which will leave the chapter $1,148.27 to start the new year.

In concluding his report, the chairman recommends "that you appropriate a suitable sum for the use of our boys (Company D, California National Guard) in camp, either for their canteen fund or for such other purposes as become apparent to their officers when they are encamped. Let them know we are with them."

Company D Staff Is Appointed

Daniel S. Johnson Named First Sergeant; Other "Non Coms" Are Noted

Captain Arnold S. Weber, commanding Company D, 115th Engineers, California National Guard, announced Tuesday he has received from the Adjutant General's office the announcement of the advancement of certain men of the company as non-commissioned officers.

Non-commissioned officers of the company, which is staffed by Captain Weber, First Lieut. W. H. Schumacher and Second Lieut. Jack S. Berry, are:

First sergeant, Daniel S. Johnson; staff sergeant, Walter O. Hansen; Sergeants, Virgil Sneed, Elmer F. Porini, Jack A. Lee; Corporals, Gayle Casebeer, William Sayers, William Allen Swansborough, Bernard Ball, Allan R. Uhl.

As has been previously announced, Company D expects to be mustered into federal service on March 3 and to leave about ten days later for one year of field training at Camp San Luis Obispo.

erville for about ten days before they go to camp for one year's training.

What are they going to do for recreation during those ten days?

They will be kept and maintained here as a unit, because Uncle Sam doesn't let his army go home nights—and it does seem that a mess fund might help out materially in that one situation.

After they go to camp—perhaps they will eat at a universal mess. Perhaps everything will be swell. They might not need that mess fund for six months.

But suppose a situation does arise, where the company needs a mess fund—some central community "kitty" where they can get a few dollars to do something that needs doing? Then what?

He did not explain his statement and was not questioned further about it. But later he asked that it be stricken from the record.

Today the administration resumed arguments for the British-aid bill in the senate with Sens. Tom Connally, D. Tex., Joseph W. Bailey, D. N. C., Lister Hill, D. Ala., and James E. Murray D. Mont., scheduled to speak. "Very few" prepared speeches by supporters are planned after today.

The opposition concluded its first day of argument yesterday with the charges by Sens. Bennett C. Clark, D. Mo., Arthur H. Vandenberg, R. Mich., and Gerald P. Nye, R. N. D., that passage of the bill would lead to dictatorship and make the President the No. 1 power politician of the world. "even more powerful than Jove on Mount Olympus."

"DIVE" CHARGED IN LOUIS WIN OVER DORAZIO AT PHILADELPHIA

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—A special sub-committee of the Pennsylvania state senate judiciary general committee today studied a resolution to determine whether the legislature should investigate Monday night's Joe Louis-Gus Dorazio heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia.

Two Philadelphia senators charged prior to the fight that there was "connivance" with gambling interests and a third senator who saw the bout said that he was "convinced this man Dorazio took a perfect 'dive'."

LOTUS NOTES

The whist card party given by Gold Trail Grange at the community hall Saturday night drew a large crowd from several parts of the county considering the rainy weather, twenty tables being on the floor and a number bought score cards who did not play at the game.

Bob Johnson was the lucky man to get first prize on high score of 155 while Mr. Carl Maurer took home the door prize, one dollar in cash. The refreshments of cherry pie and coffee were plentiful and enjoyed by all.

We must not forget to mention that another card party is soon at hand, to be given by the Coloma Rebekah ladies at their hall on Tuesday night, March 4th and there will also be nice prizes, together with a buffet spread after the game.

Owing to the inclement weather, the south prevailing winds and the clouds in the skies for the past two weeks the weather has been partly cloudy and mostly rainy days. The temperature being from 52 to 70 degrees which was on Sunday last being a nice day like spring when at about 4 p. m. a heavy thunder and lightning set in with a heavy down pour for about 20 minutes—the hardest rain which we have witnessed for some years past.

Preparations are going on for the ladies of Gold Trail Grange for a big dance on Saturday night, March 1—the music for the evening will be furnished by the Merry-makers of Placerville. Tickets will be one dollar for the gentlemen, and ladies free—a good midnight supper is to be served for 25c.

We are informed that Carl C. Tidd, W. H. Craig and Chas. Stills are soon to put up a power line from Hector Williamson's to their respective homes.
